Your pathway to medical registration in Australia

Starter guide: Steps 1–3 for international medical graduates | November 2026

This starter guide from AIM – Australian IMG Academy walks you through the first three steps of applying to the Australian Medical Council (AMC). Each step tells you what to do, links you to the official page, and tells you how to know the step is finished. Blue "→" links open the official website for that step.

The full Application Guide, covering every step through to registration, is included when you enrol in any AIM course.

> Please read: AIM provides educational guidance only. This is not an application or registration portal. Requirements, fees and screens can change, so always follow the current instructions on the official AMC, ECFMG/Intealth, Ahpra, Medical Board or college websites before submitting documents or paying fees.

Before you begin

What you will need

Have these ready before you start. Check the official instructions for the full and current list.

- Your passport (use your name exactly as it appears on it)
- Your primary medical degree certificate (final medical diploma) and academic transcript
- Postgraduate/specialist qualifications (specialist pathways only)
- Certified English translations of any documents not in English
- A personal email address you check regularly
- A credit or debit card for application and verification fees
- Your medical school's name and your graduation year

Steps 1–3: getting set up

Step 1 Check your eligibility

WHAT TO DO

1. Open the AMC eligibility checker and select the country where you got your degree.
2. Find your medical school in the World Directory of Medical Schools (WDoMS).
3. Under Program Details and Sponsor Notes, confirm the ECFMG Sponsor Note covers your graduation year.

4. Confirm your exact degree title meets the AMC credential requirements.
5. If anything is missing or wrong, contact your medical school before you pay any fees.

✔ You're done when: Your school, degree title and graduation year all appear as eligible, and you have read the How to Apply page.

Step 2 Set up MyIntealth and your EPIC portfolio

WHAT TO DO

1. Create your MyIntealth account (see the 8-step visual guide below).
2. Complete the identity requirements, then wait for your MyIntealth ID to be confirmed (usually within 3 business days).
3. In MyIntealth, follow the EPIC instructions to request and activate your EPIC portfolio.
4. When ECFMG advises you, upload your primary medical degree (final medical diploma) and any postgraduate or specialist qualifications. Nominate the AMC to receive the outsource notification and verification report.

⏱️ Allow up to 3 business days. Your MyIntealth ID should be confirmed within 3 business days of creating your account. You need this ID before you can start Step 3, so set up MyIntealth early.

Note: Creating a MyIntealth account is only part of this step. Information transfers from ECFMG to the AMC only after your MyIntealth account is created AND your EPIC portfolio is established and active. Only then move to Step 3.

✔ You're done when: Your MyIntealth ID has been confirmed and your EPIC portfolio is active.
